Charlotterville, Va., March 12.—The University of Virginia baseball nine went silt to pieces in the second tuning of this afternoon's combat against Griff's regulars and eight runs spilled over the plate in rapid-fire fashion. The game really ended right here, for the collegians nover had a chattee. Final secre, is to 1.

Joe Engel, who celebrated to-day his twentieth birthday, was allowed to start the game in the box for the Nationals.

Through Their Pacces.
Hot Springs, Ark. March 12.—Jako Stahl and his champion Red Nox had a two-hour frolic this morning and were back at Majestic Park soon enough after lunch to allow the Regulars and Yanigans to play four innings of a scheduled six-luning game before the rain drove the players back to their hetel. The youngsters won, 2 to 1. Janvin and Bottt played fine ball. All of the regulars are in mid-season form, as far as speed and pepper is concerned.
